Message From the Chief Minister

I am glad to know that the Nepal Agricultural Engineering Student's Society (NAESS) of Institute of engineering, Purwanchal Campus is publishing its Seventh Edition of the journal "AGRINEER" in 2023.

Agriculture in Nepal is a vital sector supporting the majority of the population. With diverse geographical and favorable climate condition, our country has immense potential for agricultural activities. There is a great need of agricultural modernization, commercialization where farm mechanization, food processing, soil and water management, rural energy and farmstead management play a crucial role.

Limited access to modern technology, inadequate irrigation facilities, lack of agricultural knowledge and skills, and inadequate market infrastructure are major challenges in Nepalese agriculture that can be solved by application of agricultural engineering knowledge and technologies.

I would therefore like to congratulate NAESS and Entire AGRINEER team for the collaborative effort for its technical journal publication for contribution in sector of agriculture and Nepalese economy as a whole and wishing all the best for the Success of marking yet another milestone for the Nepalese agriculture and engineering.
